YWCA BLAZE WAS ARSON

A DEVASTATING fire that ripped through the ground floor of the former Harlow YWCA building is being treated as arson, the Star can reveal.

Firefighters were called to the vacant tower block on Fourth Avenue at 5.10pm on Thursday, battling the flames for almost two hours before the blaze was extinguished.

The seven-storey building – which up until three years ago provided temporary accommodation for the town's homeless – remained cordoned off until late in the evening as crews ventilated the smoke-logged premises.

A subsequent fire service investigation found the blaze had been started deliberately, and Essex Police are now hunting those responsible.

Incident Commander Divisional Officer Mark Samuels told the Star the entire building could have been destroyed if firefighters hadn't responded so quickly.

"When crews arrived, there were fears that there could have been people inside the building," he said.

"As firefighters were tackling the blaze on the ground floor, other members of the fire crews were breathing apparatus and made a thorough search of the hostel to establish no one was trapped inside.

"Firefighters did an excellent job preventing the fire from destroying the whole building."

The building – also known as The Angle – hit the headlines earlier this month after owners Circle Housing Group told the Star that a Harlow Council-backed plan to reopen the tower block as a temporary homeless shelter could not go ahead because of the prohibitive costs involved.

The not-for-profit housing association – which plans to redevelop the ageing building into a block of "affordable" apartments if it can secure a £3.5m grant from the Homes & Communities Agency – claimed it could cost upwards of £2m to open up the premises temporarily and that any such project would not be eligible for Government funding.

Managing director Tracy White this week told the Star that the arson attack had not changed the firm's stance on leaving the building unoccupied until redevelopment work starts.

Council moves to secure open land after 'information'

HARLOW Council has secured green spaces across the town in a bid to stop travellers setting up illegal camps.

According to the authority, action was taken after officers received "reliable information" from an unnamed source that travellers set to be evicted from Dale Farm in Basildon were planning on relocating to Harlow.

Potentially vulnerable land located across the town has since been secured with new locks, gates and ditches and workmen have expanded existing trenches surrounding Harlow Common to make it more difficult for vehicles to access the site. Work that has cost the council £2,067.

Conservative councillor Joel Charles, portfolio holder for community and citizenship, said the council would do everything in its power to prevent illegal camps from being set up in Harlow.

"It is important to stress that Harlow Council has a positive working relationship with the traveller community," he told the Star.

"However, we have always made it clear that we have zero tolerance and will always act decisively against illegal traveller camps.

"In recent weeks, the council has been assessing potentially vulnerable land and securing it with locks, gates and ditches.

"The work at Harlow Common forms part of this and we will continue to review our plans as the situation at Dale Farm develops."

Who's telling porkies?

A LIVELY litter of rare Saddleback pigs is proving to be the perfect oinkment for Pets' Corner visitors suffering from post-summer blues.

The six little porkers – one girl and five boys – were born at the urban zoo in Harlow Town Park last week and are already causing mischief and mayhem for proud mum Duchess.

The Saddleback is a rare breed of domestic pig indigenous to Essex. Black in colour with a white band or "saddle" from the shoulders onto the forelegs, its ancestors were the Anglo-Saxon and Norman pigs that once foraged the great forests of East Anglia. Councillor Joel Charles, portfolio holder for community and citizenship, told the Star: "We are pleased that Pets' Corner is playing its part in keeping the Essex Saddleback pig breed alive and well.

"Children study conservation at school and they can apply what they learn in the classroom at Pets' Corner. We're certain the piglets will prove a star attraction for visiting school groups!"

Pets' Corner is open every day from 11am until 5pm (last entry 4.45pm), except Christmas Day and Boxing Day.

New park plans now on display

UPDATED plans for the £2.5m revamp of Harlow Town Park will be available for public scrutiny at a major consultation event next week.

Harlow Council appointed private consultants Lanarca earlier this year to "flesh out" a draft masterplan for the planned overhaul, and the authority is now seeking residents' views on the revised proposals.

Feedback from the consultation – which starts tomorrow (Friday) with an exhibition in the Harvey Centre – will be used to help shape the council's final bid for project funding, due to be submitted to the Heritage Lottery Fund's 'Parks For People' project in February next year.

Council leader Andrew Johnson said: "Getting through the first round of the Heritage Lottery Fund competition was a real achievement for Harlow.

"Now it's important that as we develop the plans these are shaped around what our

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

residents want.

"If the lottery bid is approved, this will be the first major makeover of the town park since it officially opened in 1957."

Planned improvements to the 164-acre park currently include the restoration of Spurriers House and the renovation of the ageing bandstand, which could herald the return of major music events.

The makeover could also see new footpaths laid, signage, access routes and landscaping improved and the construction of a new café and picnic area.

Pets' Corner could still be in line for an expansion, despite it being one of the seven discretionary services the council is currently trying to offload. According to the authority, discussions over a potential revamp of the facilities has already taken place with several organisations interested in taking over the popular attraction.

Cllr Johnson added: "The town park is the one attraction in Harlow that really does cater for all ages and interests.

"It is a much-loved public space, but parts of it are showing its age and require investment to restore key features and revitalising – that's what our plans are about."

The first consultation exercise takes place at the Harvey Centre tomorrow (Friday) between 11am and 4pm, and will be followed by an exhibition at Pets' Corner running from Saturday until next Sunday (October 30).

The plans will also be available for public viewing at Parndon Wood Nature Reserve, The Museum Of Harlow, Harlow Leisurezone and the Civic Centre.

For more information on the consultation, call (01279) 446655.

Show respect for other dog-walkers

Sir, On Saturday last – the 15th – my daughter and her partner were walking their dog (poodle) at the old cricket ground at the entrance to Churchgate Street, Old Harlow.

Another dog walker, who had a large Doberman-type dog, clearly had little or no control over the animal and did not have said hound on a lead.

The result was that it tried to attack my daughter's poodle (which was on a lead) and chased my daughter and her dog into Churchgate Street.

We were looking for my daughter's dog until gone midnight with many friends and family combing the fields.

Luckily, the following morning, an observant and conscientious person found our dog on the roundabout at Old Harlow and contacted my daughter from the phone number attached to its collar.

To this person, I give my heartfelt thanks. Their actions brought to an end the tears and upset and fear my daughter and our family went through that night.

As for the Doberman owner, they probably went home for their tea that night, indifferent to the upset and anguish they had caused.

Why is it that those individuals who insist on having these macho type dogs (which perhaps fulfil some sort of psychological need) insist on not having them on a lead in public areas when clearly they have little or no control.

Again, our thanks to the person who found our dog, and the many people we met in Churchgate Street that night who showed concern and kept an eye out for our dog.

Hardcore does not a travellers' site make

Sir, David Foreman's letter, 'Traveller's Site is not classified as Green Belt' (Star, October 6) is more than misleading.

His slick diatribe wrongly asserts that the demolition of a couple of agricultural barns and a layer of hardcore converts a Green Belt site into a brownfield site.

This cannot be or every one would be trying it on and building their own 'Palace in the country!' Councillor Jean Clarke's letter is worse, 'Travellers eviction should be stopped' (Star, October 13).

Any damage to travellers children's education, the health of their disabled, sick and pregnant should be compared to their lifestyle.

The criticism of 'Amnesty International, the

Booking fee is normal practice

Sir, Some concerns have been expressed regarding the booking fees at Harlow Playhouse.

Let me reassure readers by explaining why this has happened, and where the money goes.

It is true that the Playhouse has recently introduced a booking fee to help sustain its business. In doing this, we are like the majority of UK venues that host productions by touring companies. When you buy a ticket for a production, most of your money goes to the company that is touring the show – only a small percentage actually goes to the venue.

If we were to add £1 to the price of the ticket itself, that would still remain the case.

The vast majority of regional theatres are looking for ways to earn extra money in what is a very tough climate.

This ranges from hiring out rooms, bar sales and increasingly the use of booking fees.

The Playhouse box office charges a £1 per ticket booking fee, up to a maximum of £10 per transaction, though that fee is waived for Harlow Playhouse Supporters.

In the case of the British Legion's hire of Harlow Playhouse on the 13th November, it's important to note that hirers themselves are no longer charged for using our box office, as this is covered under the new booking fee.

Therefore, hirers of our venue – in this case the British Legion – receive a larger proportion of ticket income than was previously available.

I would also like to take this opportunity to congratulate the Harlow British Legion for their outstanding work all year round.

I attend the Town Park memorial service each year for fallen service personnel and I am always impressed by the Legion's professional handling of the event. I hope Harlow Star readers would accept that the Playhouse still offers a strong range of shows for a very competitive price.

Families and individual theatre-goers have a limited budget for entertaining outings, and we are keen to price ourselves accordingly.

We do everything we can to make bookings easier at the Playhouse, including a revamped website with live seat allocation.

The booking fee is a minor addition that makes a major difference in helping the Playhouse to survive during challenging times.

The Playhouse is at the centre of our cultural heritage in Harlow and I am working hard to keep it that way.

Cllr Joel Charles
Cabinet Member

United Nations and seven local bishops' would be better received by the law-abiding, tax-paying and hard-working majority if the travellers happened to live next door to them!

Councillor ignored the voters' wishes

Sir, I read with interest Councillor Mike Garnett's observations on protest (Star, October 6).

Do his assertions that, with regard to the waste transfer station in Templefields, "...just because hundreds of people protest does not mean they are right", and that "We are going to have the same problem with the Gilden Way development" mean that the views of local people – whom Councillor Garnett has been elected to represent – are of no importance? So much for localism!

Thomas Newens
Harlow

Is this all Labour has to worry about?

Sir, So the creation of aldermen is a waste of time and resources? (Tories under fire to create Aldermen, Star, October 6).

Do I not detect the merest hint of hypocrisy here? Seemingly, it is all right for Labour to name roads and buildings – Jack Stevens Close, Gibson Court, Kitson Way, Leah Manning Centre, Jim Desormeaux Bungalows, Sewell Harris Close, Fenner Brockway House, etc, but not other parties.

After three-and-half years of Conservatives running the council – with no tax rises, replenished reserves and better services, Labour must be struggling to find policies if this is all they can complain about.

You would think Labour would have better things to do with their time than opposing the recognition of residents who have given outstanding public service to their town. Or do they hold the people of Harlow in such contempt that they think no one else is worthy of recognition?

Michael Hardware
Great Brays

PS What did Fenner Brockway or Frank Kitson ever do for Harlow anyway?

Teenagers using new area just like 'home'

Sir, Teenagers seem to be enjoying the new grassed area in West Gate – I noticed the other lunchtime they had made it their own, sprawled out, with their takeaway wrappers strewn around to make it feel like home

Euro views required

Sir, According to national newspaper reports, the Government will soon be asking members of parliament to vote on whether our ordinary people should be allowed a referendum on Europe.

I would like to know if our MP, Robert Halfon, is going to ask his Harlow constituents what our views are, or if he is just going to stand by his Conservative political masters and vote on what they order.

I hope that he he will want to hear our views on Europe and, as our representative, vote the way WE want – whichever way that may be.

Thanks for your help

Sir, I would like to say thanks to all the people who stopped to help me and my wife when I had a fall outside the Keates House doctors' surgery on Thursday October 13.

Everyone was very helpful and kind. Once again, thank you all very much.

College wants to get young people into world of work

HARLOW College is calling on youngsters struggling to find work to get in touch as part of a new initiative to reduce youth unemployment in the area.

With official Government figures last week showing that youth unemployment across the country is at an all-time high, the Velizy Avenue college is keen to speak to 16- to 24-year-olds in the town not in education, training or employment (NEET) in a bid to help them find work.

Principal Colin Hindmarch explained: "As a college, we have recruited above target, in fact our numbers are at record levels, which is good news for the college as it means that our funding is assured.

"However, we are concerned that too many young people in and around Harlow are not in education, training or employment.

"We feel it is important that we get the young people of Harlow working, that we open their eyes to opportunity, and help furnish them with the skills to get on."

With an estimated 300 young people in Harlow currently out of work, the college is asking its students and the wider community to encourage unemployed youngsters to take the first step by contacting them to arrange a face-to-face meeting.

"We work hard to prepare our students for work and higher education, but the college can only help those who come forward and join us," Mr Hindmarch added.

"This issue won't disappear overnight, but if you know a young person who you think we could help, then please, for their sake ask them to get in touch."

For more information about how Harlow College can help youngsters falling into the NEET category, call (01279) 868100.

MP backs accident blackspot campaign

CLOSE CALL:

Kirsty Marston believes she could have been killed at this notorious junction in the Pinnacles. Inset, Kirsty's damaged car

A HARLOW worker involved in a serious car accident last month at a notorious blackspot is campaigning for traffic signals to be installed at the site.

Kirsty Marston (40), an account manager at cable company Unitrunk in Pinnacles, was turning into Merring Way when her Corsa was smashed into by a lorry coming out of the Tesco distribution centre.

The lorry - which was from an agency being used by Tesco - crushed the driver's side, writing off the vehicle and leaving Kirsty with severe shock, bruising to her ribs and arms, and serious whiplash.

"As I turned into the industrial site I saw the lorry and just knew the trolley bit was going to hit my car - there was nothing I could do about it," Kirsty explained.

"It was terrifying - I genuinely feared for my life. The car ended up being crushed onto me and I ended up in hospital."

According to Kirsty, who lives in Ware, concerns about the dangerous turning have been discussed at the industrial site for years.

"Everyone knows that that turning has been an accident waiting to happen for a long time - just unfortunately, it ended up involving me."

"It is completely blind and the lorries coming out of that centre just fly out - the driver of this one said he didn't even know he'd hit me!"

"Fortunately I was only driving about 10 miles an hour, which is why I think I escaped alive - but who knows if the next person will be so lucky?"

Kirsty, who says she tried to contact Essex County Council after the accident to alert them of the blackspot but has had no response, is now working with Harlow MP Robert Halfon on the campaign.

"The fact is there desperately needs a traffic signal or a stop and go sign at that turning to stop a more serious accident happening in the future," she said.

"I had a lucky escape because I was only doing a low speed, but I still lost my car just because I drove to work that day. It isn't fair and it isn't right."

Mr Halfon told the Star he was "very concerned" about the turning and had urged Essex County Council to make a site visit to see what can be done.

Burglary arrests

POLICE have arrested two men in connection with a burglary in Harlow.

Officers were called to Wissants at around 1.40pm on Sunday after a member of the public reported suspicious activity at an address in the street. Two men aged 19 and 21 from Harlow were arrested on suspicion of burglary and are due to appear at Harlow Magistrates Court on October 28.

Down's support group for mums

HELPING EACH OTHER: Harlow Down's Syndrome support group. From left, Audrey Soyam with Matthew (5 months), Cristina Griffiths with Francesca (3 months), centre worker Chris Remfrey, Victoria Wilson with Joni Williams (2) and Nicola Coney with Lily (3 months) and Sean (21 months).

AN inspirational Harlow mum has set up a support group for parents of children with Down's Syndrome after her own daughter was born with the condition.

When Cristina Griffiths (47), of Lodge Hall, was pregnant with daughter Francesca she knew there was a high chance she would have Down's.

But having already lost seven babies, she decided against taking any tests that might have put her unborn child at risk.

"Having a child with Down's was the least of my worries after everything I had been through with the other pregnancies," Cristina told the Star.

"As long as she was healthy – which she is – then I was happy."

Cristina, who has two other children, said that although it was difficult at first to come to terms with the diagnosis, she has found a lot of comfort through her new group.

"There is very little support for parents of Down's Syndrome children," Cristina said.

"People outside of my family didn't know how to react and I felt very alone. But after speaking to a local health visitor, I was put in touch with other local mums in the same situation and together we set up the 'Upwards with Down's' group.

"It has been such a comfort for us all to be able to meet and discuss any concerns, and in particular is lovely to meet older children with the condition. They are absolutely beautiful and it is very reassuring to know what to expect with Francesca.

"We have only been running for a few weeks but have already had specialists in to answer questions and are organising special sessions like baby massage, swimming and sign language classes."

The group, who meet every Thursday between 10.30 and 12.30am at the Tree House Sure Start centre on Parnall Road, are now keen to make sure that all parents with Down's Syndrome children in the area know they exist.

"We have aimed the group towards children under the age of five – or school age – but would welcome any parent with older children as well.

"We would also encourage any expectant mothers to come along and meet us and the children as I am sure it will bring them a lot of comfort." Cristina added: "Ultimately, it is about together ensuring our children grow up happy, have the same opportunities as everyone else and are not isolated in life. Even if we only help one other person then we have done a good job."

For more information about Upwards with Down's, contact The Tree House Children's Centre on (01279) 772600.

Support spooky group fundraiser

HORROR fans can treat themselves to a spook-tacular evening whilst raising money for a good cause at a Hallowe'en-themed charity event.

Harlow group Safer Places, which supports adults and children affected by domestic abuse in the area, is putting on the Hallowe'en disco and raffle to raise much-needed funds.

"We have suffered huge cuts to our Government funding recently so are hoping to make this into a really big event," fundraising administrator Emily McClement told the Star.

"We have some great DJs playing throughout the evening and loads of great prizes – including an Xbox 360 – to be won in the raffle.

"Whether people decide to dress up or not they are sure to have a fantastic time whilst also playing a big part in supporting local women and children suffering from domestic abuse."

The disco is taking place on Saturday, October 29 at Upper Clapton Rugby Club in Thornwood, Epping. Tickets cost £7 in advance or £10 on the door and can be purchased by calling 08450 743216.

Use extra hour to give blood

RESIDENTS are being asked to use the hour they gain when the clocks go back at the end of the month to help save lives.

NHS Blood and Transplant are urging people to use the extra time to give blood after figures showed that only four per cent of the eligible population donate regularly.

"It takes just one hour to give blood and that one donation can help to save or improve up to three lives," explained lead donor relations manager for NHSBT Derek Carr.

"Blood is not just used in accident and emergency situations, but to treat a range of illnesses like cancer, anaemia and is also given to premature babies."

Regular blood donor sessions take place in Harlow every month. For more information about when and where, visit www.blood.co.uk.

New mums can get fit and make friends

NEW mums keen to get back into shape are being encouraged to join a free fitness and social club in Harlow.

Set up by local parents, Buggy Fitness Harlow is a group dedicated to helping mums get fit without having to find or fund childcare whilst also providing the opportunity to make new friends.

The club, which recently received an £8,000 lottery grant, is keen to attract as many new members as possible to develop the service.

Treasurer Pauline Martini explained: "The idea of Buggy Fitness Harlow is that it provides an opportunity for mums and their children to get together and socialise whilst also getting fit.

"Currently we run three fitness walks a week which are led by a fully qualified instructor and are suitable for all levels and abilities.

"However, with the extra funding we hope to develop the group further depending on what our mums want," she added.

"We would encourage all mums – especially new ones – in the town to come along to one of our sessions and see what you think."

"Ultimately, it is an opportunity to get out, exercise and make some new friends."

More information about Buggy Fitness Harlow can be obtained from any Sure Start Centre, or by visiting their website at www.surestartharlow.org.

Sniffing out the drug-dealers ...

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsexnews.co.uk

FINDING myself sitting in a police van on a Friday night is not a common occurrence.

But last weekend, began slightly differently after I joined Essex Police on their latest drive to tackle illegal drug use in Harlow.

"A few landlords have indicated that they believe drugs are being used in their pubs," operation leader Sergeant Rob Hance said at the initial briefing.

"So tonight, we are responding to those complaints by conducting Operation Napalm – random sniffer-dog led raids across the town."

With a team of more than 20 people – including uniformed and plain-clothed police officers, Harlow Council staff, PCSOs and drug dog handlers and their animals from an outside agency – we travelled in convoy to the evening's targeted venues.

En route, I was told most landlords in Harlow – including those of the pubs we were to visit – had given permission for random raids to be conducted at their premises.

"It is all part of the Safer Harlow Partnership and pub watch scheme being run in the town," communications officer Denise Harvey explained.

"Landlords realise the trouble caused as a result of drugs and obviously don't want that kind of thing happening on their premises. It isn't about ruining people's nights – it's about making the community a safer place."

A stream of high-visibility jackets flowing past the window indicated that we had reached our first destination.

Moving swiftly, the team secured the premises, moving to allocated spots to block any exits – including the toilets – while the sniffer dogs conducted their search.

The majority of revellers responded enthusiastically to their surprise guests, many amused by the unexpected disturbance and happily co-operating with the dogs and their handlers.

But naturally there was the odd disgruntled customer unable to hold their tongue after a few beverages.

"**** off and jog on," slurred one irritated drinker.

"Some people understandably get upset about having their Friday night disturbed," Denise added, "although most appreciate what we are doing and are happy to help."

But even the most uncooperative of punters couldn't fail to be impressed by the dogs' performance.

Led by their handlers, they rapidly explored every nook, cranny, bag and pocket with their highly-sensitive noses, standing and sitting near any suspicious scents or nudging the pocket of a person believed to be concealing drugs.

It wasn't long before officers were bagging up prospective finds and with discarded drugs discovered at all four pubs visited – the Cock Inn, The Shark, The Phoenix and The Herald – it was clear the evening's efforts had reaped real rewards.

Things didn't turn out so bad for Oliver!

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Do you recognise any of these young characters from the Charles Dickens classic Oliver! at the Playhouse in 1977.

Ahead of the Harlow theatre's latest staging of the much-loved show, Nostalgia has been in touch with one of the first "Olivers" – Will Overton (pictured furthest left in the middle row) – who was aged 13 and studying at Passmore's. "It was a bit of a funny thing actually," explained Will, who now works as an illustrator near Birmingham. "I wasn't involved with any kind of drama group or anything, but got told by my music teacher about the auditions at the Playhouse and decided to go along. "The next thing I knew I was given one of the two Oliver roles – it was quite a surprise! I think my family were rather amused." According to Will, the show was a "big deal" in the town, involving a lot of top amateur talents from Harlow.

"I remember Brenda Taylor, who ran a dance school in Harlow, took the part of Nancy and a man called Derek Banks being Fagin.

"There were also over 30 children from schools all over the town involved. We'd rehearse each Sunday at the Playhouse restaurant that looked out onto the road running down the side of the Co-Op. "It was a lot of fun and the show ran for almost two weeks if I remember rightly."

Despite receiving first-class reviews for his performance, Will, who is now 47, says he knew that acting was not his calling in life. "I really enjoyed the experience and did do a few other shows at the Playhouse after Oliver! but knew deep down acting wasn't really for me," he said.

"They were really good times though and hard to think that it was 34 years ago!"

NOSTALGIA UPDATE: Burnt Mill

AS arrangements continue for Burnt Mill School's big 50th birthday bash next year, memories of its early days are still flooding onto the Nostalgia desk.

The latest comes from Jean Lewis (nee Pipes) of Pennymead, another one of the school's first intakes. "I started at Burnt Mill School the year it opened in 1962 and remember mostly good times," she explained.

"It was all new and the uniforms were different for winter and summer. I remember the black felt hats for winter and straw ones for summers and the boys wore caps, I believe. It was a very smart school and quite strict."

Jean (60), who now works as a carer, says one of her best memories from her time at Burnt Mill is of the school skiing trip to Austria.

"It was after Christmas in 1965 and we all had an absolutely brilliant time," she said.

"I remember it costing just £45 all in, including the loan of equipment, boarding and food.

"Goodness knows how much it would cost these days for a skiing trip between December 26 and January 3!"

25 years ago in the Star

Red-faced performers for the New Harlow Revva Society have publicly apologised for a mix-up which turned an evening's entertainment into a bit of a fiasco. The group mistakenly publicised a show for the physically handicapped club at the Leah Manning Centre as open to all, resulting in many annoyed members of the public being turned away.

Staff and customers were evacuated from Harlow Post Office on Tuesday morning after a suspicious package was discovered in the seating area.

The bomb squad was called in to inspect the parcel addressed to the Commissioner of Police in London, however it was found to just contain paperback books.

A local ex-servicemen who braved aerial bombing and torpedoes in the North Atlantic to get vital supplies to Russia 40 years ago is being honoured. James Metheson of the Maples is being presented with a special gold medal today at the Soviet Embassy in London.

A Ladysmith resident was dismayed to return home and find vandals had wrecked his property this week. The callous thugs spurted washing up liquid over all his electrical equipment, causing hundreds of pounds worth of damage.

Diamond darlings mark anniversary

A HARLOW couple celebrating 60 years of wedded bliss on Sunday are still bowled over by their love for one another.

George (81) and Joyce Wyatt (78), of Spinning Wheel Mead, have been keen members of the Tye Green bowls club for 50 years, and told the Star that sharing common interests was the key to their long and happy marriage.

"After first being introduced to bowls by my sister, I managed to persuade George to give it a go a couple of years later and soon we were both hooked!" explained Joyce.

"It has played a big part in our lives – it's important to have common interests to enjoy together," added George.

First meeting at a mini golf course in Highbury, north London, in 1950, George and Joyce married a year later on October 23, 1951, and went on to have five children.

"Our happiest memories are all centred around the family – we now have nine grandchildren, one great grandchild and another on the way," said Joyce.

"The important thing in a marriage is to always talk and listen to one another and accept that you are not going to agree on everything – it would be a miracle if there was any couple out there who never disagreed!"

George and Joyce are celebrating their anniversary milestone with a big party at their beloved Tye Green Bowls Club this weekend.

Man acquitted in racial abuse case

A HARLOW man accused of racially abusing and assaulting the manager of a Harlow fast-food restaurant has been acquitted by a jury.

Mark Smith (22), of Harefield, claimed he called Shazad Al-Hassam "trappy", not "Paki", during an altercation between the two men in Hare Street Springs on February 8 this year.

He also denied crushing the 33-year-old McDonald's manager in the door of his own car.

Giving evidence, Mr Smith, an engineer, told Chelmsford Crown Court he and his friends had called a cab from inside The Hare pub and had mistaken Mr Al-Hassam's car for their taxi.

Mr Al-Hassam was sitting in the small

Suzuki Alto talking with his cousin Abdul Salam, who lives on the street, and friend Asif Shahzad when Mr Smith knocked on the window twice, first to see if it was a taxi and then to ask why they were there.

He told the court he then asked if they were drug dealers – a remark that "agitated" the driver, who told him to go away.

Mr Smith continued: "I told him to stop being so trappy. I was probably agitated as well because of the way he spoke to me. It may have come across aggressive."

He denied he was racially abusive.

The court heard that when the taxi arrived, he and his two friends got in, but one then climbed out and went over to the Suzuki, followed by Mr Smith.

"I went over to get him back, to make sure nothing went off," he told the court.

Mr Smith said he put his arm around his friend to pull him away, but denied banging on the car window, slamming the door or assaulting Mr Al-Hassam as the prosecution had alleged.

Mr Al-Hassam had earlier told the court: "I stood between the door and the car. Then I heard him swearing. He said 'Paki...' and 'Asian ...'"

"He took some steps back and he ran to me and he pushed the door and crushed me in between. The door hit my chest."

But the jury unanimously found Mr Smith not guilty of racially aggravated common assault or an alternative offence of common assault, and he was discharged from court by Judge Charles Gratwicke on Friday.

It's nearly firework time!

EXPLOSIVE thrills are in store for those attending Harlow's sparkling annual firework and bonfire night celebrations next month.

The free display returns to the Town Park Showground on Sunday November 6, sparking off at the earlier time of 7pm this year to ensure the whole family can enjoy the evening's entertainment.

A radio roadshow featuring the stars of this year's Playhouse pantomime production of Peter Pan will welcome guests into the town park from 6pm, with Harlow Council chairman Mike Garnett lighting the bonfire at 6.45pm.

The fun will continue until late with an on-site funfair and refreshment stalls selling everything from coffee to toffee apples.

Councillor Joel Charles, portfolio holder for community and citizenship, said: "We are looking forward to another great Harlow fireworks and bonfire celebration which once again is free to attend."

"Following feedback, we will be setting off the fireworks at 7pm to make it easier for families who want to get home earlier.

"By holding the event on a Sunday, it reduces disruption to local residents living in the area, motorists and shoppers."

As usual, Fifth Avenue will be closed to through traffic from 5.30pm and will re-open at approximately 9.30pm to cope with the 8,000 to 10,000 spectators expected to attend.

Limited disabled parking will be available on the showground up to 5.15pm. All others should use the town centre car parks.

SPINNEY JUNIOR Children donated food parcels to the homeless and hungry as part of harvest festival celebrations at the Cook's Spinney primary.

Pupils brought in fruit, tinned soup, bread, cakes and vegetables to make up hampers, which were handed over to local charity Streets2Homes by young members of the school council on Friday.

The youngsters also attended a special assembly where they learned more about the origins and meaning of the annual festival before hearing from a former homeless person about their experiences of sleeping rough.

Headteacher Lella Yates said: "The children were very interested to learn more about the Harvest Festival and were fascinated to hear from someone who has experienced homelessness."

"I was very impressed by the amount of food brought in by the children and we were very pleased to be able to help such a worthy local charity."

BURNT MILL HEALTH and social care students brewed up quite a feast when they organised a tea and coffee morning in aid of McMillan Cancer Support.

The youngsters made cakes of every shape, size and colour for the fundraising event raising money for the charity supporting cancer sufferers.

With fellow pupils and staff members making up a steady flow of customers, the group finished the session with an impressive £200 in their charity box, with a further £200 donation matched by the school.

Health and social care teacher

Mrs Gallacher said: "The students did a brilliant job and made some really fantastic cakes."

"They pulled off a very relaxed and enjoyable event and everyone mucked in from setting up to cleaning down."

"Their mothers would have been proud!"

The youngest members of the Perry Road nursery went deep into the realms of their imaginations when they joined in with a special Pyjama Drama baby session.

Children aged up to 18 months were given the important task of trying to help Busy Bee find his buzz as they acted out a story together.

"A lot of people don't realise that you can do drama with babies but it is actually really good for them," explained Pyjama Drama teacher Eve-Marie Northcote Darby.

"It really helps to stimulate their minds and helps them to learn about their environment in a fun and active way."

Gateway manager Emma Pike added: "They all absolutely loved it. I have never seen our babies so mesmerised and intrigued by what was happening around them.

"Eve-Marie was really able to hold their attention and get them responding – it was quite incredible."

Pyjama Drama is available for all children up to the age of seven. For more information, phone Eve-Marie on 0844 504 0963 or email evemarie@pyjamadrama.com.

Designer hoping to milk fashion fans!

FASHION fans are going udder-ly crazy for a wacky new design trend – dresses made from milk!

German scientist Anke Domaske is set to take the design world by storm after creating a special fabric called QMilch – the first man-made fibre produced without the use of chemicals.

Completely odourless and with a texture similar to silk, it can be washed like any other fabric and has even been shown to help improve the blood circulation of the wearer.

Each dress retails at around £150, and celebrities including Ashlee Simpson are already big fans.

Anke told reporters: "Bio clothing is a big trend about to take off in the fashion industry and we're ahead of the curve."

"It feels like silk and it doesn't smell - you can wash it just like anything else."

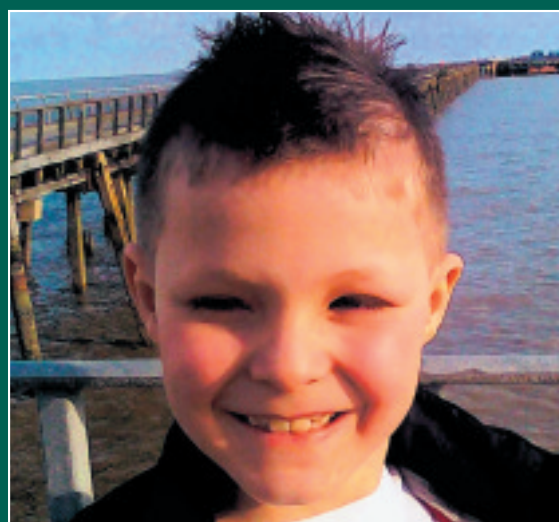

To make the material, Anke first extracts a protein called casein from dried milk powder.

She mixes it with a range of other natural ingredients before heating it up in a type of meat-mincing machine.

The fibre then comes out of the machine in strands before being spun into yarn on a spinning machine.

Although it takes the equivalent of six litres of milk to make an entire dress, unlike the white stuff you find in your fridge there is no 'best before' date attached!

Something fishy is going on at store

YOUNGSTERS are being encouraged to get creative this half term for a chance to win a fin-tastic prize.

The Harlow branch of Pets At Home is asking local children to show off their artistic skills by drawing and colouring in a fish in a bid to win an aquarium with all the necessary equipment. Whether they want to keep the new pets for themselves or donate the prize to their school, expert staff at the pet store will also install the tank and advise on how to look after the fish as part of the winning package. Children need to drop their entries into the Edinburgh Way store before November 14.

Have you seen discarded bag?

A HANDBAG containing vital medical equipment was stolen from a home in Harlow.

Thieves struck at the address in Herons Wood between 10.30pm on October 5 and 7am the following day, making off with a black handbag containing insulin sets, insulin injection pens and monitoring equipment.

DC Michael Orr said: "This burglary has quite literally put the victim's life in danger."

"The insulin pens are loaded and are extremely dangerous if mis-used."

School celebrates foods of the world

AROUND THE WORLD: Year 8 pupil Maddison Davies and Year 10 Keeley Anderton celebrate the annual cultural food day at Stewards School.

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

MORE than 500 people tucked into a mouthwatering array of exotic dishes from around the world at Stewards Academy's annual cultural food event on Thursday.

Co-organised by Year 11 students Matt Walton and Liley Masuku, the event featured traditional dishes from more than 20 countries, with Bangladesh, Jamaica, Latvia, Portugal, Italy, South Africa, Egypt, Germany, France and China all represented at the table.

Live music and entertainment was also provided by Harlow-based African musical theatre group Efua Sey Academy.

Assistant headteacher Marie Erwood MBE told the Star: "This is the event at Stewards which gives me the greatest pride."

"To see hundreds of pupils, staff, parents and members of our local community all coming together to celebrate the diverse nature of the Stewards Community gives me enormous pleasure."

"I would like to thank everyone who brought along food at a time when we are all tightening our belts".

Not all blue moods are bad. In this case they are soothing, rich, fresh and fun. From azure to ink, eggshell to midnight, the myriad tones of this versatile colour can enhance any room. Fishpools offer a huge choice of key pieces in crisp, timeless shades to help add restrained colour to your home.

Start with stylised wallpaper like Delphine from Harlequin and keep it simple with a matching pale blue paint. The retro fabric design covering the curves of the Conran accent chair is complemented with a plain bright cushion. For a luscious look in the bedroom go for the Samara bedding collection from Harlequin. And for a little kitchen couture choose the Claire table and its aqua coloured L'Eau chairs. Even the mundane can be fun with these gorgeous casserole dishes in a choice of shades or the witty "Love" cushion from Kirsty Allsop.

So get inspired and see what you can create from the huge choice of chic contemporary homeware at Fishpools, the largest quality furniture store in the south east.

Louis comes through tough interview process to become MP's apprentice

A HARLOW College student has become the second paid apprentice to be taken on by local MP Rob Halfon.

Louis Luck is working towards a Level 3 NVQ in Business Administration and replaces Andy Huckle – who last year became the first-ever MP's apprentice – as a part-time research assistant in the Tory backbencher's House of Commons office.

Working in Westminster three days a week, he will return to Harlow College on Thursdays to study and remain in Harlow on Fridays to work in Mr Halfon's constituency office.

His pay is being sponsored by local entrepreneur and Harlow Stadium co-owner, Dean Barclay.

Louis, who studied history, politics and religious studies at A-Level, said securing the apprenticeship was a "dream come true".

"There were 35 people who applied for the position and I had to go through a pretty intense application and interview process, so I'm really grateful to now be in this position," he told the Star.

"I've really enjoyed studying politics at A-level and it has become my greatest passion, so having the opportunity to now work with Robert and in the Houses of Parliament really is a dream come true."

Mr Halfon, an outspoken supporter of apprenticeship schemes, described Louis as an "outstanding individual".

"Apprenticeships are not just about economic efficiency, but about social justice as they give young people the chance to get on the conveyor belt to skills, jobs, and opportunities," he added.

"Since I was elected to the House of Commons, I have campaigned long and hard to improve apprenticeships in our country."

We have a duty to protect residents

ANYONE passing Harlow Common may have noticed earthmoving work going on.

A closer inspection reveals that this work is in fact the restoration of ditches and the creation of mounds of earth.

As the Star reported last week, Harlow Council has taken this action because of information we have received that travellers at Dale Farm in Basildon may be assessing this spot as a potential camp.

As you'll know, Basildon Council has been locked into a legal fight over its plans to clear 51 illegal traveller pitches from Green belt land.

I'm not going to dwell on the arguments for and against this action, which have been exhaustively aired. What I am unrepentant about is protecting Harlow from any group which believes it can pitch up in our town and take up residence where it has no right to do so.

The work on Harlow Common – designed to stop caravans and cars moving on to the land – is part of a number of things Harlow Council has been doing to secure vulnerable land from potential intrusion.

Does this constitute an anti-traveller

COUNCIL MATTERS

By Harlow Council leader Andrew Johnson

stance by Harlow Council? Absolutely not.

We have always had good relations with the traveller community in Harlow, to whom we offer legal pitches.

However, we have also had a zero tolerance approach to illegal traveller camps. That approach existed long before Dale Farm hit the headlines.

Protecting Harlow's open spaces does not mean we are somehow being swept up by hysterical anti-traveller prejudice.

No group, whatever its background, can claim that illegally occupying land is justified by some special human rights privilege.

As I write this column, work to clear the illegal traveller pitches at Dale Farm is taking place and we don't know how this story will end.

It's possible these protective measures in Harlow may ultimately not have been needed.

But residents would be unforgiving if the council did not act on the basis of reasonable intelligence.

And that's not a risk I am prepared to take on behalf of Harlow.

Perververt given second chance to avoid parks

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A PERVERT who was banned from public parks after being convicted of offering a boy £20 for sex has been given a second chance to stay out of prison after breaking his court order for a second time.

Wayne Challis (52), of Crown Close, Sheering, walked free from Chelmsford Crown Court on Friday, despite admitting to a second breach of a sexual offences prevention order imposed in 2009 which bans him going into any park where the public might be present.

He had pleaded guilty to entering Harlow Town Park between January 1 and April 4 this year, but denied crouching in bushes near public toilets.

But Judge Anthony Goldstaub opted to defer sentencing until next year, telling the court he would assess then whether Challis was continuing with his rehabilitation.

He told the defendant, who he called "an intractable case", that if he continued to meet his probation officer, take his medication and did not commit any further offences, he would not be jailed at the March 30 hearing.

But he warned: "If there are any further visits to the park, for whatever purpose, you will be brought back here immediately and be sent to prison."

The original sexual offences prevention order in March 2009 followed Challis's conviction for causing or inciting prostitution after offering a 15-year-old boy money for sexual intercourse.

Last summer, he was given a 12-week suspended prison sentence for breaching the order after being found trying to hide himself in bushes in Pishiobury Park, Sawbridgeworth. When arrested, he gave a false name.

Mitigating at Friday's hearing, Neil Ross told the court that Challis had maintained his contact with probation and had not returned to either park since his latest arrest.

"He is a rather sad and lonely individual and going to the park is one of the few things he had," he said.

"He has very few friends, made worse by publicity surrounding his actions."

Calendar girls seek grant from bank

Female members of the Harlow Walking Group spent 15 months creating their own Calendar Girls-style effort – titled Girls In Boots – to raise money for local special school Harlow Fields.

The raunchy ramblers have already sold almost half their print run since the calendar's launch last month and are now hoping to boost their final fundraising total by securing a Natwest Community project grant.

"Recently, we found out that Natwest may donate between £100 and £1,000 to this project if they see enough support from the public," explained calendar photographer Peter Gould.

"Our target has always been to raise at least £6,450 – £1,450 to cover the printing costs and £5,000 to help buy learning equipment for young people with learning and physical disabilities studying at Harlow Fields.

"Currently, we are halfway there, but obviously any extra donations would be absolutely fantastic and we would urge as many people as possible to vote for us."

To cast your much-needed vote for the Harlow Walking Group calendar project in the Natwest community awards visit communityforce.natwest.com/project/4386.

To purchase a calendar, call Peter on (01279) 830886.

Baroness checks on solar scheme

A TOP Tory politician had light shed on Harlow's pioneering solar panel scheme when she paid a visit to the town on Thursday.

Conservative party

co-chairman Baroness Sayeedi Warsi met with local conservative councillors and Kier Harlow staff in Blackbush Spring to see work start on the Harlow Council-backed project.

The initiative will see solar panels installed on the roofs of 1,196 council properties and public buildings including the Latton Bush Centre and the Leah Manning Centre.

With installation and maintenance costs being met by Kier, the council claims the move will save council tenants up to £190 on their annual electricity bills.

"I was delighted to be in Harlow to see the work being done by Kier and Harlow Council," Baroness Warsi said after the visit. "It's great to see local authorities and the private sector working together to benefit local communities."

Want to cross hot coals for hospice?

BRAVE soles are being dared to put their resilience to the test by walking across burning hot coals for charity.

Fundraisers at St Clare Hospice have challenged residents to take part in a sponsored fire walk to help raise money towards their work caring for local people with terminal or life-limiting illnesses.

The event, taking place from 6.30pm at the Hastingwood hospice on November 3, will start with a motivational talk before participants are sent bare-footed across the 800 degree embers.

A team from St Clare Hospice have agreed to lead the way. "It only seems fair that we take part as well!" explained community fundraiser Camilla Whitby.

"I'm pretty nervous about the idea, but also strangely excited. I'm sure after the motivational team talk I'll be raring to hot foot across those coals!"

To take part in the fire walk challenge or for more information visit www.stclarehospice.org.uk or call (01279) 773750.

Children's centre wins two awards

THE owners of a jungle-themed Harlow indoor play centre have declared their first year's trading a roaring success after picking up two prestigious prizes at a national awards ceremony.

Wild'n'Wacky, based opposite Harlow Town Station in Edinburgh Gate, beat off competition from across the UK to scoop bronze for best new play centre and win a special achievement gong at the Play Providers' Association's Aspire Awards 2011.

Co-owner Mark Lenihan told the Star: "We're absolutely honoured to be presented with these national awards – it really is the icing on the cake of what has been a tremendous first 17 months as a trading business. For more information on the centre, log on to www.wildnwacky.co.uk.

GSK hopes to inspire pupils

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

ALMOST 200 budding scientists were given a taste of laboratory life when they attended a special demonstration at a Harlow pharmaceutical company.

In co-ordination with Harlow

Science Alive, staff from GlaxoSmithKline in the Pinnacles treated Year 6 pupils to a science lesson unlike any they had experienced before to reveal the properties of solids, liquids and gases.

Experiments carried out included flash-freezing flowers, making rockets with dry ice, and melting lead with a blow torch before table top workshops were set up by Science Alive.

Dr Paul Westlake from GSK Harlow said: "GSK are committed to bringing science to life for local schoolchildren, reinforcing the excellent work done by their teachers."

Science Alive chief executive Jon O'Connor added: "We hope this sort of experience might inspire one of these children to join the next generation of scientists."

Rewarded for determination

A HARLOW charity helping to support the integration of minority communities into the area is celebrating after receiving a prestigious national award.

According to Integration Support Services, they are the only not-for-profit organisation in the region to achieve a PQASSO Level 2, the most recognised certification in the voluntary sector acknowledging high levels of service.

The group, which runs outreach support services for isolated ethnic groups from their base in Wych Elm, celebrated their achievement by presenting award certificates to ISS volunteers at their recent annual general meeting.

CEO Mimoza Matoshi said: "Staff, volunteers and ISS board members have worked hard during the past 18 months to improve the capacity and the infrastructure of the organisation.

"All charities are going through very challenging times coping with funding cuts, but this excellent award shows ISS's commitment and determination towards preparing for the challenges ahead as well as building more trust and confidence among our partners, funders and all stakeholders."

She added: "This award is the outcome of a successful collaboration and partnership working and we would like to thank our partners."

Oliver! is set to be a Rare treat

CONSIDER YOURSELF ON STAGE: The theatre group in their production of Oliver!

A TALENTED youth theatre group will consider itself at home at the Playhouse next week when it presents a dazzling new adaptation of hit West End musical Oliver! Opening on Thursday, October 27 and running for three nights, Rare Productions' take on the Dickens classic will use Lionel Bart's hugely popular musical version as its template and features an 85-strong cast of local youngsters aged between eight and 21.

Following young Oliver's perilous journey from workhouse poverty to salvation via a stint as unwitting accomplice to a gang of young pickpockets, the sing-along production also includes classic songs Food, Glorious Food, Consider Yourself, As Long As He Needs Me and Gotta Pick A Pocket Or Two.

The eponymous hero will be played on alternate nights by Church Langley youngster Maisie Ayres (10) and Borehamwood youth Charlie Biggs (11), while Leventhorpe student and Rare regular Chris Thomas (17) plays chirpy gang member The Artful Dodger.

Taking the pivotal role of Fagin will be impressive young tenor / baritone Matt Young, whose booming voice – honed during his day job as lead singer of hotly-tipped Bedford-based heavy metal band HEKZ – has featured in many of the company's shows over the past few years.

Director Charlotte Hunter said: "We have a very talented cast of young people who have worked hard to do justice to this wonderful musical."

"I know our audiences are going to enjoy a great evening's entertainment at the superb Harlow Playhouse."

The show opens at The Playhouse on October 27 and runs until Saturday. Performances begin at 7.30pm with a Saturday matinee at 2.30pm. Tickets cost £12 (£10 concessions) from (01279) 431945.

■ Rare's next production at the Playhouse will be Camp Rock, the hugely popular musical based on the Disney Channel movies.

Open auditions for the show – which runs from February 2-4 – will be held on November 6 at the Playhouse from 10am to 1pm, and the following day at Harlow College between 4pm to 7pm.

from some of the more pantomime / variety aspects of the Thunderslam series and put more focus on the wrestling itself. "The show will reflect more topical concerns like the economic downturn, with new characters like The Bailiff and The Liquidator featuring for the first time.

"With American ring announcers, new commentators and bigger fighters than those currently in the WWE it will have the feel of a vintage WWF show from the 90s, and hopefully it's something we can eventually bring to a wider TV audience in the UK."

Wrestle Force starts at 6pm on Sunday and tickets cost £15 (£10 concessions / £45 family ticket).

For a chance to win tickets to the show, drop into the Harvey Centre on Saturday and challenge Charlie Haas or Tiny Iron to an arm-wrestling match.

PARANORMAL ACTIVITY 3 certificate 15, 1h24m

IN 2009, Israeli-born film-maker Oren Peli wrote and directed a low-budget, supernatural horror at his own house in his spare time. Paranormal Activity became a box office sensation around the world with its deceptively simple narrative and grainy camerawork, captured by characters as they hunt for an evil spirit.

Structured as found footage a la The Blair Witch Project, the film proved audiences could be scared to death without having to coat the screen in lashings of blood and gore. Last year, a sequel continued the nightmare for Katie, who barely survived the events of the first film, as she endured more bumps in the night. With Halloween looming, directors Henry Joost and Ariel Schulman, who made the acclaimed documentary Catfish, helm this third instalment of the nerve-shredding horror franchise, which traces the malevolent force that haunts sisters Katie and Kristi back to its origin. The film unfolds in 1988 when the girls' mother Julie (Lauren Bittner) has a new boyfriend, videographer Dennis (Christopher Nicholas Smith), who becomes intrigued by strange sounds. So he sets up three cameras in the hope of capturing spooky goings-on. Youngsters Katie (Chloe Csengery) and Kristi (Jessica Tyler Brown) become central to the terror that takes hold of the household.

MONTE CARLO

certificate PG, 1h44m

WHEN you wish upon a teen star like Selena Gomez, you can be sure all of her dreams will come true.

And so it is in this lively if improbable fantasy about a down-to-earth American girl who is mistaken for a British socialite and continues the ruse in one of Europe's most glamorous, sun-baked locations.

Monte Carlo is frothy and inoffensive entertainment for young, undemanding audiences, who are content to be spoon-fed emotions and to believe that every girl gets her Prince Charming in the end.

Admittedly, she does it by lying and deceiving, but even the most haphazard path leads to true love and the all-important fairy-tale ending.

Director Thomas Bezucha keeps the tone light and breezy, complimenting the perky performances with a bouncy orchestral soundtrack courtesy of Michael Giacchino.

Gomez is a likeable fresh-faced heroine but her character is woefully undernourished while Katie Cassidy and Leighton Meester make the most of their similarly two-dimensional travelling companions.

Virus thriller is worth catching

DIRECTED by the masterful Steven Soderbergh, Contagion is a stylish thriller starring Matt Damon, Kate Winslet, Jude Law and Gwyneth Paltrow which imagines the panic when a deadly new virus threatens to become a global epidemic.

Scott Z Burns's smart script zigzags from Hong Kong to London, Tokyo, Minnesota and beyond, examining the reaction of governments, scientists and the public from myriad perspectives, unearthing personal dramas in the midst of devastating global catastrophe.

Only once does the film resort to what might be considered cheap disaster movie tactics, watching nervously as two surgeons peel back the scalp of the first victim to examine her brain for signs of the infection. Otherwise, Soderbergh shows restraint throughout, killing off major cast with little fanfare as the virus shows no mercy.

Beth Emhoff (Paltrow) returns from a business trip in Hong Kong with acute flu-like symptoms. Husband Mitch (Damon) nurses her and their son Clark (Griffin Kane), who is also feeling under the weather. Following a seizure, Beth dies. Within hours, Clark is dead too.

Mitch is rushed into isolation but miraculously seems to be immune to the outbreak and is allowed home with his daughter, Jory (Anna Jacoby-Heron), who has been out of town.

More cases are reported by an increasingly hysterical media and the Centre for Disease Control and Prevention dispatches one of its best operatives, Dr Erin Mears (Winslet), to the Emhoff house in Minneapolis to trace the pathogen. Meanwhile, epidemiologist Dr Leonora Orantes (Marion Cotillard) from the World Health Organisation heads for Hong Kong to see if Beth contracted the virus there.

In a secret laboratory, Dr Ally Hextall (Jennifer Ehle) and Dr David Eisenberg (Demetri Martin) try to grow the virus, which seems to be derived from pigs and bats, in order to engineer an antivirus, with guidance from respected academic Dr Ian Sussman (Elliott Gould). However, conspiracy theorist blogger Alan Krumwiede (Law) thwarts their efforts by spreading misinformation.

Contagion opens on the second day of the outbreak and charts the virus to the point when scientists make a vital breakthrough. Tension is palpable from the opening frames.

Damon delivers another terrific performance as a family man, unable to stop his loved ones dying in his arms, who will do anything to protect his daughter from the same grim fate. The emotional pay-off to that particular relationship is wonderful.

Winslet and Ehle are equally impressive and Law sports a snaggleteeth and an Australian accent as the agent provocateur, who cynically believes the lethal strain could end the recession for pharmaceutical companies.

A-tissue, a-tissue, we all fall down.

Motion capture brings Tintin to life

OSCAR-winning film-maker Steven Spielberg directs this first film in a proposed trilogy, bringing to life Belgian artist Hergé's iconic newspaper reporter using state-of-the-art motion capture to record the actors' movements and translate this data into the performances of the incredibly detailed digital characters.

Tintin (Jamie Bell) buys a model ship in the market and is plunged into the midst of a centuries-old mystery involving the shady Red Rackham (Daniel Craig) and his goons. Red asks Tintin to name his price for the boat but the reporter refuses to sell, sensing that the wooden vessel is far more valuable than it first appears. Assisted by his trusty pooch Snowy, Tintin travels around the world in search of clues, meeting booze-sodden Captain Haddock (Andy Serkis), whose family history holds one of the keys to the unfolding mystery. Meanwhile, bumbling detectives Thompson and Thompson (Simon Pegg, Nick Frost) pursue a pickpocket (Toby Jones).

THE ADVENTURES OF TINTIN: THE SECRET OF THE UNICORN certificate PG, 1hr46m

>>>still on screen

The Three Musketeers British director Paul W S Anderson (Resident Evil, Death Race) turns to the 3D format for his old-fashioned reworking that relies heavily on swordplay to keep our pulses racing.

The Three Musketeers is a jolly romp, plying comedy, action and romance with a healthy dose of skulduggery and heaving bosoms.

The cast members look fierce, duelling with their blades in slow-motion, and the body count is impressively high, albeit without a drop of spilt blood to ensure the family-friendly 12A classification.

'Artagnan (Logan Lerman) leaves behind his father (Dexter Fletcher) to seek his fortune in the court of young and inexperienced King Louis (Freddie Fox) and his bride Queen Anne (Juno Temple).

En route, the young man crosses paths with Porthos (Ray Stevenson), Athos (Matthew Macfadyen) and Aramis (Luke Evans), who have been disbanded.

With time running out before King Louis declares war against the British, the Musketeers and their new recruit declare, "All for one, one for all".

Footloose If it ain't broke, don't fix it. That's the mantra of director Craig Brewer, who updates the storyline of this toe-tapping remake to present day Georgia but retains the familiar characters and plot of the 1984 classic, which immortalised Kevin Bacon as a teen rebel who unites the emotionally scarred youth of his hometown with the intoxicating power of boogie.

The Lion King 3D Disney's highest-grossing hand-drawn animation of all time strides back onto the big screen, looking more sensational than ever in the increasingly fashionable 3D format.

Simba returns to Pride Rock to overthrow Scar and save his family from extinction.

Johnny English: Reborn Johnny English Repackaged might be a more fitting title for this sequel to the 2003 comedy which poked gentle fun at the image of British spies as debonair gents with a licence to kill.

Aside from the casting of rising star Daniel Kaluuya as Johnny's sidekick and a prominent role for a voice-controlled Rolls-Royce Phantom Coupe V16, Johnny English Reborn could have been shot directly after the original film and left to gather dust on a shelf marked Straight To DVD Some Day.

Real Steel Rocky goes five rounds with Short Circuit in Real Steel, a futuristic action adventure that handsomely showcases Hugh Jackman's rippling muscles.

Directed with a heavy hand by Shawn Levy, the crowd-pleasing film hinges on a familiar clash between father and estranged son, using the fictitious sport of robot boxing to salve old wounds and build bridges towards a brighter future.

Rio Animated musical comedy. Blu (Jesse Eisenberg), a male blue macaw, is taken to Rio de Janeiro to mate with a female. He eventually falls in love with Jewel (Anne Hathaway), a free-spirited macaw, and together they have to escape from being smuggled by Nigel (Jemaine Clement), a cockatoo.

Yogi Bear Yogi Bear (voiced by Dan Aykroyd) and pal Boo Boo (Justin Timberlake) live in a cave in Jellystone Park from where they mastermind the ingenious thefts of food using spring-loaded picnic tables. But Mayor Brown (Andrew Daly) intends to sell off the park and auction logging rights to the highest bidder. The only way to raise the money and save Jellystone is to throw a 100th anniversary party.

Most people reading this fall into one of three categories. Either, 1) you are looking to buy, in which case you are probably using the internet as your main way of accessing properties for sale, or 2) you are thinking of selling and are researching which agent you might consider approaching, or 3) you are not currently thinking of moving, but have an active interest in property issues and the local market.

If you fall into the first category, ie buying, then the properties in our advert represent only a very small selection of those available on our books. The rest can be found on our website, and on several of the UK's most effective property portals, such as Rightmove, on which all of our properties feature.

But if you are thinking of selling, or may do so in the future, you are probably more interested in meaningful and relevant property-related advice, information and tips, rather than the fact that we have loads of properties for sale. You will want to know what the selling experience would be like using a refreshingly different approach, and working closely with up-beat, forward-thinking professional property marketing consultants who love their work and deliver results.

So from next week, we will be running a series of well-considered property articles that draw on our many years experience in estate agency, combined with the very latest ideas to help you maximize your sale prospects. This will cover a wide variety of moving/improving topics which we hope will not only provide you with straight-talking reliable advice, but which, over time, will also give you a good understanding of how we approach not only property, but also the relationship we enjoy with our staff and, of course, our valued clients.

So look out for next week's article – your timing could be perfect!

Scrap

Scrap

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

The over-50 match saw Harlow's first pair of Karen Butler and Brenda Newland win two matches 6-2 7-5 and 6-2 6-3.

However, Harlow's second pair of Sarah Shoard and Liz Dodd lost 1-6 1-6 and 2-6 4-6.

The match was marked by exceptionally windy conditions which made for a tiring battle against this strong opposition, but the Harlow ladies held their own to get a well deserved draw.

GREAT START: Harlow Hockey Club's first team have started the season confidently at their new home at Leventhorpe School

Unbeaten run stays intact

IT was a tough test but Harlow maintained their unbeaten start with a hard-fought home point against Saffron Walden's second team on Saturday.

Harlow welcomed back centre forward Andy Boughtwood after he had recovered from a shoulder injury and winger Dan Munro also returned after work commitments stopped him from playing previously.

Walden controlled possession in midfield for the first 20 minutes, but Harlow looked a threat on the counter-attack with their pace up front.

Harlow Tn 1, Saffron Walden II 1
East Men's Hockey League, division four south east

The hosts went ahead on 25 minutes. Craig Cholerton was fouled wide on the right flank and Walden switched off for a vital couple of seconds.

Quick thinking from James Smith saw him take the ball to the by-line and he crossed before Boughtwood reacted quickest to deflect the ball past the helpless Walden keeper.

The visitors equalised six minutes after the break.

The goal came from a penalty corner with a Walden player hitting an impressive strike low into the corner.

It ended Harlow's impressive defensive record of not conceding a goal in more than 180 minutes of competitive hockey.

Harlow keeper Shaun Hastler made a fantastic reflex save on the hour mark. At the other end, Cholerton almost secured three points for Harlow late on when he linked up well with Ben Hagger on 65 minutes.

He hit a great shot from the top of the D only to see the visiting goalkeeper save with his stick at full stretch.

Cholerton also received a green card [a warning before a yellow card] for swearing.

HARLOW: Hastler, Castle, Plumridge, Krzoska, Grace, Symonds, Smith, Hagger, Munro, Cholerton, Boughtwood.

Other result: East Men's Hockey League div 6SE: Havering III 4, Harlow II 2.

'Rams must be focused for crunch game'

LEE Harron has stressed that his depleted Rams side must be switched on when they visit fellow promotion hopefuls Holt in a crucial RFU London division three north east clash this Saturday.

Like Harlow, the Norfolk side have won all five games so far and something will surely give this weekend as draws are a rarity in rugby.

The Harlow Rugby Club senior coach said: "We have to get our preparation right - it's a long journey for us.

"They have won all their games and it's going to be a tough game. We have to get to be very positive."

Harron tried to downplay the outcome, stressing Holt have to visit Harlow later this season.

That is true but there is no getting round the fact that a win for the Rams will be a psychological boost for the rest of the campaign.

Harrow added: "It's not the be all and end all, but it will be a terrific result if we do win."

If they do it, it will be without experienced forward Paul Eynon who has business commitments but would have been unavailable regardless due to a knee injury.

Number eight Kain Claridge (shoulder injury) is also unavailable.

Harron said that scrum-half Rhys Powell will not be risked after he picked up a head injury against Newmarket.

Harron filled in for Powell in the game against Norwich, but the coach has not decided if he will do the same again.

Ladies hit rivals for six

CLARE Attack lived up to her name as she scored a hat-trick in Harlow Ladies' convincing home win over Brentwood II.

She did not get on the scoresheet until the second half after the first period on Saturday produced only one goal on 17 minutes.

A penalty-corner routine between Carolyn Welsford and Sonya Amos ended with the former converting. Harlow were then thwarted by outstanding saves from the Brentwood keeper.

The visitors attacked strongly at the start of the second period and Harlow keeper Linda Rowley stopped a certain goal. Attack got her first goal on 40 minutes when she fired past the onrushing keeper after excellent work from Georgina Esterhuysen down the right.

Seven minutes later,

Esterhuysen made it 3-0 with an excellent reverse-stick sweep from the edge of the circle.

The lead was increased on 57 minutes.

A four-player move started by Bethan Spencer and involving new Harlow player Rebecca Dolan, finished with Attack shooting home.

A solo effort from Attack on 63 minutes enabled her to complete her-hat-trick.

The scoring was completed three minutes later.

Centre-forward Amos found time and space on the right wing and Charlotte Byers timed her run to perfection to get on the end of Amos' cross and bundle the ball and herself into the net!

Harlow are third in the premier division table after an impressive run of only one defeat in their five league games.

Time for boss to four-get 3-5-2!

Leiston 1, Harlow Tn 4

Ryman League, division one north

THE sterling performance and victory at Leiston was everything that Hawks boss Danny Chapman could have asked for.

An insipid display had seen Harlow Town lose 2-1 to Maldon & Tiptree United nine days ago, but the Hawks outfit responded in no uncertain terms on Saturday.

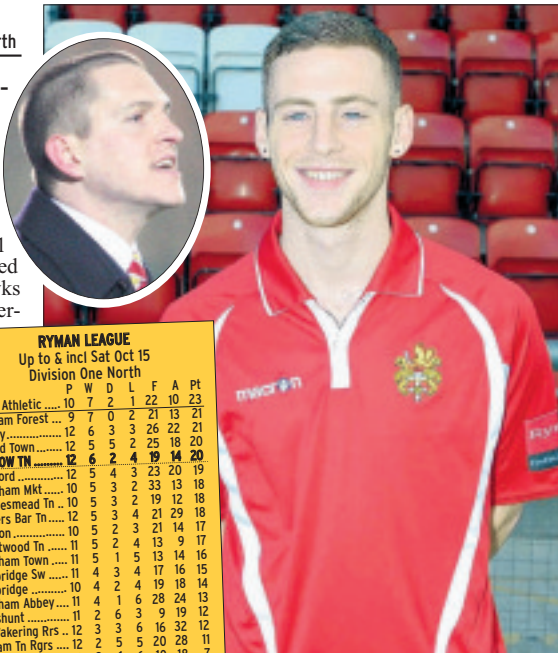

Chapman said: "We needed a proper reaction after the Maldon game. We were excellent and we thoroughly deserved the win."

"We should have won 5-0 and not 4-1, but I will take that. Scoring goals has been a problem but we did well."

Chapman reverted to a 4-4-2 formation despite stressing only a fortnight earlier that he would NOT alter his favoured system of three at the back.

The line-up at Leiston saw Chapman drop left-sided defender Jack Haverson to the bench, while skipper Daniel Brown switched from midfield to fill the left-back berth.

drafted in to partner Piers Wixon up front.

There was also a substitute appearance for midfielder Ryan Maxwell, who has re-joined Harlow from Waltham Abbey.

Going the other way was Max Mitchell and the attacking midfielder scored on his debut against Tilbury.

Chapman said: "I still believe in 3-5-2 and we got promotion with it [in 2006-07], but I'm not stubborn. I will use what is best for the team," added Chapman.

There were no real chances until Harlow went ahead in the 23rd minute when a Brown cross from the left was struck home by Wixon on the half-volley. Harlow's lead was doubled on 38 minutes. Luke Marshall cut in from the right and beat a defender before shooting home from 15 yards.

At the other end, late first-half action saw Nathan Stone fire wide twice.

Any doubt about the result was settled as Harlow scored twice more on 51 and 70 minutes.

Brown converted a penalty awarded after Bunn was fouled in the box.

Leon Lalite then set up Bunn who went on to beat the home keeper with an exquisite chip.

The Suffolk side gained a consolation goal on 75 minutes. Michael Brothers fired home from the edge of the box.

Hawks keeper Bertrand Bossu then made two sharp saves to deny Stone and Brothers on 80 and 85 minutes respectively.

Winger Marshall, who has been in excellent form over the last month, tweeted afterwards: "I think Saturday's game was a massive improvement. Our season starts from now. One game at a time. It's a shame we have two cup games after a good result though."

Town boss shows ruthless streak to kick start campaign

By DAVID RIMMER

MANAGER Danny Chapman has shown his ruthless streak after letting three players go from his Hawks squad.

Midfielders Jon Docker and Max Mitchell plus striker Rhys Henry have been shown the door, while Chapman has brought central midfielder Ryan Maxwell back to the club.

Right-back Donny Barnard also may re-join the Hawks after Chapman put in a seven-day approach to AFC Hornchurch.

Chapman acted after his side slipped to their third defeat in four games when they lost 2-1 at home to Maldon & Tiptree United nine days ago.

Chapman explained: "Jon [Docker] did not fit into our style. A player can come to a club and find it's not for him.

"We struggled to find the best position for Max Mitchell and it was time for him to move on [to Waltham Abbey].

"Rhys Henry has had a lot of opportunities and he has not scored. I could not fault his work rate. It's time for him to move on."

The Hawks boss is delighted to have former Bishop's Stortford player Maxwell on board. The Irishman is a tough-tackling midfielder and will add bite to the engine room, particularly if skipper Danny Brown is converted permanently to left-back.

"Ryan will do what you ask him to do. It will put people under pressure and increase competition for places," said Chapman.

Chapman believes there is also a role for Barnard after his decision to go to 4-4-2. The former Leyton Orient full-back had only left the club in September.

"Donny is a good player. The way we were playing we did not have a place for him. Tom Bruno did well on Saturday, but he is not a full-back."

Chapman is confident his team can acquire themselves well when they visit

Ryman League premier division side Concord Rangers in the first qualifying round of the FA Trophy this Saturday.

"It will be a very tough game. They will be organised and get the ball down and play," said Chapman.

"The trophy gives us a chance to bring money in. We will be working hard to get a result.

"There is no reason why we cannot progress. It we play like we did at Leiston we will be not be scared of anything."

Concord have lost three players in the last month to Harlow's rivals Bishop's Stortford, so will not be as strong.

Central defender Paco Craig, the son of Culture Club guitarist Mikey Craig, plus the club's ex-Ipswich Town left-back Sebastian Dunbar and striker Danny Suboula have all quit the Canvey Island-based team in the last four weeks.

The side are 20th in the premier division table.

Coach pays tribute after first victory

Harlow Hawks 94, Michaelians 51
Herts County Cup, group game

HARLOW Hawks player-coach Shab Niaz paid tribute to his side as they put to one side a difficult start to the campaign to crush Michaelians 94-51 in the group stage of the Herts County Cup.

Niaz said: "That was a brilliant team effort and is exactly the response that was required after the tough start that we had."

Second division Michealians were no match for Harlow in their opening group match at leisurezone last Friday.

Having lost their first three games, the Hawks started strongly with Shab Niaz and Dave Spashett scoring with long-range efforts.

The visitors refused to lie down though and at the end of the first quarter were just 16-13 behind.

Zaf Niaz, Lee Jones and Simon Atkinson were all active around the basket and managed to add 24 points in the second quarter.

Michaelians were restricted to 13 points.

The Hawks' high tempo paid dividends and they led 40-26 at half-time.

In the third period Hawks concentrated on strong defence to stifle the inside play of Michaelians.

This forced the visitors into a number of errors as Hawks increased the tempo.

Nick Moss added nine points in the quarter, slashing to the basket and finishing inside.

Simon Atkinson used his strength on the inside to good effect with a number of offensive put backs.

Spashett, S. Niaz and Chris Jackson nailed a series of three-pointers as Hawks finished the quarter with a comfortable 68-38 lead.

In the final period Harlow continued to play hard despite the healthy lead.

Z. Niaz continued his offensive onslaught in a man-of-the-match performance, adding another nine points.

He was backed up by great play from new first teamer Jackson, who is still finding his feet in the team, as they drove the final nail in the Michaelians' coffin.

Hawks ran out convincing winners 94-51.

Niaz added: "Our character will be tested a number of times this season, starting with the next two fixtures when we face Stevenage Scorpions at home on Friday before travelling to top-of-the-table Cambridge Cats who have averaged 97 points from their first three league games."

HARLOW HAWKS: Z. Niaz (19pts), Jackson (17pts), S. Atkinson (12pts), Moss (10pts), Spashett (9pts), Jones (8pts), L. Atkinson (8pts), S. Niaz (6pts), Oyerinde (5pts), Burgess.

Premier rivals too strong for Hawks

THE Hawks gave hosts Bury Town a run for their money before the Ryman League premier division side won Tuesday's first round tie.

The Suffolk side play one division above Harlow in the non-League pyramid.

Harlow Town manager Danny Chapman rested keeper Bertrand Bossu and gave a game to young

Ryman League Cup, first round reserve stopper Michael Dumoulin.

Bury's centre-half Tom Bullard headed narrowly wide on 9 and 26 minutes before the game's sole goal came in the 31st minute.

Kieran Leabon shot home from six yards after an off-balance Lee

Dumoulin did superbly to tip over a 55th-minute shot from Cunningham after he had cut in from the left.

However, Harlow had the better of the second half and came close to equalising in the 81st and 85th minutes.

Piers Wixon headed wide of the

Four minutes later, a Wixon pass set up substitute James Peagram on the left, but his shot grazed the far post as Harlow were unable to force extra-time.

HARLOW TN: Dumoulin, Bruno, Brown, Gledhill (Haverson 45), Kirby, Kilapi, Marshall, Lalite, Wixon, Bunn (Haverson 84), Deane (Peagram 77). Sub not used: Wheeler.
